Mineral-Sulphur-Radium-Jodine-Bromine Bath in Split

Dalmatia

By a lucky chance these baths lie in the classical sunny south of Dalmatia on the shores of the Adriatic in the largest and most frequented port of Jugoslavia, and has semi-tropical climate in which the healing powers of this exceedingly strong mineral water and the still stronger mineral mud enjoy the advantage of being joined with the effects of a climatic health resort. This is what accounts for the splendid results attained in cases of rheumatism, podagra, neurosis, ischia, of diseases of the organs of breathing, of periparametric ulcers and of skin diseases. The baths are also fitted out with all the modern aids of physical and electro-mechanical therapeutics. The town and its surroundings are rich in interesting Roman and Venetian excavations, and also some from the days of the national kings. The opportunities for excursions are many and beautiful; the hotels, boarding-houses, restaurants and cafés first-class and have a view over the sea and the larger and smaller islands on the picturesque coast of Split.
