

CONTENTS

PREFACE .....	v
I
THE PROBLEM OF SELECTION OF EMPLOYEES .....	3
Personnel selection. The 11 steps in research procedure in employment psychology. Considerations in the choice of job or occupation to be studied.
II
JOB ANALYSIS .....	13
Outline for job analysis. Sources of information in making a job analysis. Procedure. Illustrative job analysis. Important points.
III
CRITERIA OF VOCATIONAL SUCCESS .....	30
Importance of the choice of criteria. Thirteen suggested criteria of vocational success. General considerations in the selection of criteria.
IV
CHOICE OF WORKERS TO BE STUDIED .....	49
Considerations in the choice of workers for study. Some disturbing variables to be eliminated. Newly hired versus old employees.
V
ANALYSIS OF THE WORKER .....	58
Topics for a man analysis. Analysis of abilities. Innate and acquired abilities. General and specific abilities. Relative importance of abilities.
VI
SELECTION OF EXAMINATIONS .....	76
Principles governing the selection and construction of tests: Objectivity; reliability; simplicity, analogy of test and ability to be measured; resemblance to vocational tasks. Sources of material: The vocational apparatus; former studies of the vocation; general test publications; miscellaneous sources of information.	