

CHAPTER	PAGE
—Mortgage-bond Companies of Norway.—Early Coöperative Associations for Sweden.—Raiffeisen Societies in Switzerland.—Swiss Union of Raiffeisen Banks.—Small Banks and Ample Credit.—Cattle-purchasing Commissions of Thurgau.
XXVIII. RUSSIA AND THE BALKAN STATES . . .	395
Activity of Coöperative Societies in Russia.—The Artel.—Early Coöperative Loan and Savings Society.—Moscow Agricultural Association.—Schulze-Delitzsch Banks.—Credit Societies.—General Board for Small Credit and the Bank of Russia.—Legislation and Government Aid.—Zemstvo Banks.—Moscow People's Banks.—Conditions in Finland.—Highly Centralized Coöperation.—Central Coöperative Credit Establishment.—People's Banks in Roumania.—Central Bank.—State Aid.—Servian Banks of Raiffeisen Type.—Joint-stock Central Bank.—General Union.—Public Granaries.—Farmers' Banks of Bulgaria.—Central Agricultural Bank.—Unique Central Coöperative Bank.—Coöperative Attempts in Turkey and Cyprus.—Coöperation Among Jewish Colonists in Palestine.
XXIX. SPAIN AND PORTUGAL	415
Positos.—Need of Credit.—Operations of Positos.—Recent Credit Societies.—The Leo XIII, the Bank of Spain and the Mortgage Bank.—Government Help for Coöperative Societies.—Misericordias and Celleiros Communs of Portugal.—Modern Agricultural Mutual Credit System.—Agricultural Credit Board and Bank of Portugal.—Republics of Andorra and San Marino.—Monaco and Lichtenstein.
XXX. BRITISH INDIA, JAPAN, EGYPT, AND THE AFRICAN COLONIES	427
Conditions in India.—The Kùttùchuttu and Nidhis.—Work of Nicholson and Wolf.—Coöperative Credit Laws of 1904 and 1912.—Development of Societies.—Statistics.—Early Mutual Aid Societies in Japan.—Law of 1909.—Central Association of Coöperative Societies.—Attempts in Egypt.—Society of Omar Lufty Bey.—Credit System in Algeria and Tunis.—Provident Societies.—Thrift Societies of French West Africa.—Credit Societies in Java, Windhock.	