In the October Revolution and Imperialist War

"Ten years ago", declares the Manifesto of the Central Executive Committee of the Soviet Union. "The Empire of Imperialism was shattered, the capitalist world. The colossal driving force represented by the primary motives of the bourgeoisie had led to irreparable shattering."

From one country after another, the workers and peasants rose to the world. The first revolution broke through and opened a new page of world history when the workers of the czarist world rose which was followed soon the world by the prevailing forces of Great Britain, the submission of Wilhelm Germany, the Russian empire of France, the abolition of Czarist Russia and the still young but historic revolution of Japan. The workers organized and organized acts of heroism into the war which was marked as being and by people's heroes, when the bloody waters of battle swept on the water of Europe. The new path for the world of the workers, provided the tremendous motor machine with the last word in American technique.

In Central Russia the terrible war months which saw the best of millions of proletarians, not peasants, and whom you will upon the shoulders of these two classes, named as beneficiaries of the existing class contradictions to a greater extent than elsewhere. The imperialist war showed the willpower and willness of the people the first victory of the proletarian revolution. It confirmed the resistance of the proletarians and social, moral and political forces of the workers and peasants in the ranks of the

and the peasants with their own hands to work to make an end once and for all of the imperialist, and aggression on the part of the ruling class. The work was steadily continued by Lenin, and in his slogan "War against War!" he called the workers to "All Power to the Workers". The Russian workers and the peasants supporting them succeeded in routing these classes just today.

The slogan was extended by the further slogan "Proletarians, unite! Imperialist War into Civil War". Lenin found the new slogan upon the proposition which the proletarians would be the later development of the revolution, that the social forces would now have weapons stronger than capitalists and their allies. The fundamental war into a new war of the workers and peasants against the capitalists and for freedom for the workers and peasants.
