

BUREAU OF ACCOUNTING

The Bureau of Accounting was created by the Economic Board February 25, 1933. It had previously been a section of the Economic Division, Department of Labor and Industry. The Bureau estimates the Federal budget and the estimates for the Department of Education as a result of the study of the Federal budget for two years and a report on the results of its study of the estimates of the Department of Education also given a report within the estimate. The Bureau of Accounting reports to the budget office on the allocation made to the Department of Labor and Industry by the Department of Labor and Industry and handles all expense accounts for the Department and makes up monthly reports as well as the report for the State Workmen's Insurance Fund.
