

206$05799783

Map showing the countries of the world (in white) served by direct sailings from Philadelphia. Eighty-seven percent of population and sixty-three percent of the total area of all foreign countries having seaports are linked with the Port of Philadelphia, the fastest growing Atlantic Coast port of the United States, according to figures of the U. S. Shipping Board.