	924	Additional duty of 10 cents per pound on cotton contained in this schedule, having a staple of 1½ inches or more in length. <sup>7</sup>
		Total, Schedule 9		48,300,609		19,451,364	22,422,198			40.27	46.42

<sup>1</sup> For purposes of computing duty under Act of 1930, 80 per cent of imports is estimated to be belting, with an ad valorem rate of 30 per cent; and 20 per cent of imports, rope for belting, with ad valorem rate at 40 per cent.

<sup>2</sup> Import statistics not segregated to show imports of shirts. It is estimated that included in this paragraph are shirts of an approximate value of $100,000 which are dutiable at 45 per cent ad valorem. The remainder of the import values under this portion of paragraph are dutiable at 37½ per cent ad valorem.

<sup>3</sup> Rate on rag rugs hit-and-miss changed by presidential proclamation from 35 per cent ad valorem based on foreign valuation to the same rate based on American selling price, effective Feb. 28, 1928.

<sup>4</sup> Rate based on foreign valuation. Equivalent to 35 per cent ad valorem based on foreign valuation to the same rate based on American selling price, effective Feb. 28, 1928.

<sup>5</sup> Includes chenille rugs, imports not segregated. Rate in act of 1922, 35 per cent ad valorem (foreign valuation), Act of 1930 40 per cent.

<sup>6</sup> Imports not segregated. Imports in 1928 of cotton wiping rags such as would be dutiable under paragraph 922 of the act of 1930 are estimated at 40,000,000 pounds, valued at $2,000,000, averaging 5 cents per pound. On this basis the duty would be $400,000 under the act of 1922 and $1,200,000 under the act of 1930. These figures being estimates, are not included in the data shown.

<sup>7</sup> See end of each paragraph for additional duties imposed by Act of 1930 under the provisions of this paragraph.

<sup>8</sup> If long staple cotton (1½ inches or over in length), which carries a duty of 7 cents per pound, were excluded from Schedule 7 and included in Schedule 9—Cotton Manufactures—the average ad valorem equivalent rate for Schedule 9 would be decreased from 46.42 per cent to 37.68 per cent. This should be taken into consideration in comparing Schedule 9, the cotton schedule, with Schedule 11, the wool schedule, for example, in which the raw material is included with the manufactured products.
