Chart 11. Annual Earnings of Men and Women

FULL-FASHIONED HOSIERY

SEAMLESS HOSIERY

Median annual earnings by occupational classification

As was to be expected, annual earnings tended to be highest in the occupational groups where weekly earnings were highest. Of the full-fashioned hosiery workers only men employed as knitters had median annual earnings above the median for the entire group. Women in the topping department had the highest median annual earnings, $1406. Boarding and seaming were the only other departments where the median for women was above $1200.

In the seamless hosiery industry there were three occupational groups, rib knitting, machine fixing, and maintenance, in which the men
