

The image shows the front cover of an antique book. The spine is bound in dark brown leather with visible wear and texture. The main cover is decorated with marbled paper featuring a complex, organic pattern of dark brown, reddish-brown, and tan colors. The marbling is heavily scratched and scuffed, particularly in the center and towards the corners, revealing the underlying board material. A small, light-colored, irregular mark is visible near the bottom center of the cover. At the bottom center, there is a white rectangular label with the text "1923 I 150" printed in black. The edges of the book are worn, and the pages are visible at the top, appearing aged and slightly yellowed.
